Week in Review

This week we began academic work in Cycle 1. During this cycle, in both core subjects and Personal World, students will examine the different ways in which power effects our life. Students are busy getting in back in the school groove.

In addition to academic work, we are adding several “quiet moments” during our day to help students focus on themselves. Each morning we are opening our day with a peace circle. Several afternoons a week students are given the opportunity to have some “solo time”, during which they may do a peaceful, solitary, non-academic task. Our hope is through these self-reflective experiences, students will become more peaceful and develop a higher sense of self-respect.

Summer Vacation is Over?!

Many of us are still working on swapping from summer mode to school mode. Help your student adjust by sitting down and going over their Study Guides for math, language arts, science, and social world (history). Encourage them to use their planner to track assignments and due dates.

As always, if you have any questions, comments or concerns about your student’s school day, please contact us.
