Parent Volunteer Opportunities

Thank you to all of our parents who have signed up for volunteer hours in the classroom. We are still in the process of finalizing a schedule for classroom parent hours. We have had a lot of great feedback over the last week from parents and many of you are ready and willing to come in the classroom and help. We appreciate it so much.

Curriculum Update

Book report forms went home in last week’s homework folder and are due on September 30th. Students will begin presentations the following week.

Students will be taking another set of assessments this week: the Math and Language GAT’s. These are benchmark tests taken at the beginning and the end of the year.

Homework

- Spelling and math workbooks in the Friday homework folders.
- Reading in their assigned Literature Circle books as well as in their Newbery Award books for their book reports.
