

Eucalyptus Class Newsletter December 5, 2011

“And as I’ve gotten older, I’ve had more of a tendency to look for people who live by kindness, tolerance, compassion, a gentler way of looking at things.”—Martin Scorsese

Great Job Eucalyptus Students!

The Eucalyptus class did an amazing job last week performing their rendition of the “Jackie Robinson Story” for the rest of our campus at the assembly on tolerance. Truly, the Eucalyptus kids knocked it out of the park.

Curriculum Updates: Writing: Fairytale/Tall Tale/Myth

Students will be given a pre-writing packet this week that will guide them through the process of creating a character(s) and developing a plot. They will be encouraged to work on this during class time; however, parents may also want to work with the students at home.

Secret Pals

Secret Pal guidelines and instructions will be sent home in Wednesday folders. Students will have also chosen their “secret pal” and that student’s name will be written on the document. We look forward to a fun week heading into our winter break.

Homework

- Spelling and math workbooks in the Friday homework folders.

Dates to Remember

12/12 Secret Pal Gift Bag Due

12/16 Fairytale/Tall Tale/Myth
Writing Project Due

12/16 Minimum Day

12/19-Winter Intersession
1/6

*Please see School Newsletter for more details.

Person of the Week

Emily D.

Emily is a very outgoing and spirited student with a great sense of humor. She is a talented artist who loves to tell stories through illustrations. Her favorite color is pink, and she loves to play with her “critters” at home.

Coats for Kids

Just a reminder of the “Coats for Kids” drive happening through the end of this week. Thanks.